

Essential Skills for Impacts of Computing: Safety, Law, & Ethics

Grade	IC.SLE.01	Essential Skills
K	Keep login information private and log off devices appropriately.	Log off applications and devices appropriately. Identify username and password as login information.
1	Keep login information private and log off devices appropriately.	Recognize login information as private information that should not be shared. Identify trusted adults with whom it is safe to share login information.
2	Keep login information private and log off devices appropriately.	Explain why it is important to keep login information private. Explain why it is important to log off applications and devices.
3	Introduce intellectual property concepts and identify types of digital data (music, videos, photos) that may have intellectual property rights preventing copying and/or requiring attribution	Outline the types of digital artifacts that may be considered intellectual property. Locate information to identify creator and copyright type.
4	Observe intellectual property law and give appropriate credit when using resources.	Evaluate and select the proper way to provide attribution for the ideas and creations of others.
5	Discuss personal consequences and social impact of violating intellectual property rights or failing to provide appropriate attribution.	Explain why it is important to give credit (attribution) to the original creator. Articulate the personal and social consequences of using intellectual property.

Skills for Standard: IC.SLE.01 Grades K-5

These annotations are a collaboration between Maryland Center for Computing Education and the Maryland State Department of Education.